Washington, Jan. 7.—The state department was today awaiting word from the American embassy in Mexico City as to the action taken by the Carranza government in the latest murder of Americans in Mexico.

The state department has issued instructions to the American embassy to make representations for the immediate capture of the Mexicans who murdered F. J. Roney and Earl Bowles, two Americans, for pay funds in Tampico. Officials here expected that steps would be taken by the Carranza government to apprehend the guilty persons.

Instructions were forwarded to the American embassy in Mexico City to urge the Mexican government to take every possible step to bring about the capture and punishment of the murderers.

First word of the killing of the two Americans, which brought the total of American citizens murdered in the Tampico district since April, 1917, up to 19, reached Washington through private sources. Later, the state department announced the receipt of similar advices and outlined the steps which had been taken in the department in the case.

The department's information, which came from the American consul at Tampico, said the bodies of Roney and Bowles, who were employed by the International Petroleum company, were discovered Monday.

The state department also was informed in a report from the American consul at Mazatlan, Mexico, that Harry V. Leonard and Harry O. Martin, members of the crew of the United States submarine tender Pocumoke, arrested in Mazatlan Nov. 12 after a street fight with a Mexican, had been sentenced to two months' imprisonment. The report said, however, that as the sentence dated back to Nov. 12, when the two bluejackets were arrested, their release should be effected Jan. 12.

With receipt of information that Harry V. Leonard and Harry O. Martin, two American sailors, were to be released from jail in Mazatlan on January 16, the state department hoped that the incident would be closed. The two sailors were sentenced to two months' imprisonment for alleged assault upon a Mexican. In as much as the state department had been advised that the men were properly arrested, it was believed that the sentence handed down in their cases was proper.

Washington, Jan. 7.—There was great interest displayed today by agents of the department of justice in the whereabouts of L. C. A. K. Martens, self styled ambassador of soviet Russia.

Martens was not at the hotel where he had been stopping while in Washington. S. Nuorteva, secretary to Martens, refused to say where his chief was.

Officials of the department of justice admitted they were anxious to see Martens but they would not state whether his arrest was planned.

The chief cause for the closing down of the Russian communist paper Novy Mir and the arrest of its editor, Gregory Weinstein, was the publication of a letter in a recent issue to communist "comrades" of Detroit recommending immediate action in the overthrow of the government.

RECOMMENDS COMMISSION TO AID IN DEVELOPMENT OF CITY
HOUSING PROJECTS AT DINNER

Facts of interest to citizens of this city, which is now facing a housing famine, were presented by Harry J. Osburn, president of a large housing company of Dayton, in his talk on "What Adequate Housing Means to Xenia at the noon luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday.

Mr. Osburn said that the housing problem was not any more acute here than in any other progressive city at the present time. He said that the demand had grown in Dayton annually from 15 to 20 houses in 1900 to 800 houses in 1919.

In Dayton, Mr. Osburn explained that all building and planning is done in conjunction with a building commission, and he recommended that the city commission here appoint a building commission to assist any projects of this nature, such as the tract now being opened up by Frank Dodds.

The duties of the commission, he said, would be to see that the tract is laid out with the future taken into consideration. The expenses of a well-plotted plat in regular in shape are much less than the old quadrangular form, he said.

Mr. Osburn recommends good houses, rather than cheap make-shifts. He said that 25 per cent of the present cost of building is charged against labor. The present shortage of labor he said, where there are two jobs for every man, prevents the cost of labor from coming down in the next ten years. Closing Mr. Osburn complimented Frank W. Dodds on his scheme for the development of the Roberts tract.

"Any man who has the nerve to undertake such a large project as that deserves not only the support of the Chamber of Commerce, but the city at large. Any city with a man like that at the head of such a project cannot help but develop and develop fast."

Mrs. Harry Sternberger, organizer and lecturer for the American Jewish relief campaign, which is asking for $10,000 as this county's share in the $35,000,000 national drive, introduced her movement to the business men also at the luncheon and urged their support of her project.

C. A. Weaver, president of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly, saying that the organization already effected would be augmented and members of the Chamber of Commerce would do everything possible to assist in the campaign.

New York, Jan. 7.—Hundreds of communists or members of other "red" organizations were reported to be fleeing from this city today to escape arrest by federal agents. Some were said to be heading toward the Canadian border while others planned to seek shelter with friends in other cities.

The so-called "soviet embassy" is virtually deserted with Ludwig Martens, the "soviet ambassador" out of town and Gregory Weinstein, the "chancellor" under arrest at Governor's Island. Weinstein is charged with being a dangerous alien.

A fund is being raised for the defense of the prisoners. Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, who has charge of it, said today that enough money is on hand to bail out about half of the prisoners.

Chief Flynn and his department of justice agents still have hundreds of warrants to serve.

Detroit, Jan. 7.—As a move to lower the cost of living among its members, the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers, the third largest of the railroad brotherhoods, announced the purchase of four clothing factories from which goods will be sold at price reductions ranging from 25 to 60 per cent. Negotiations are under way, it was said, for the purchase of two other mills.

Philadelphia, Jan. 7.—One of the wealthy Bergdoll Brothers, who have been sought on charges of evading the army draft for nearly two years, was arrested here today when detectives raided their home.

Detectives surrounded the Bergdoll residence early in the morning and broke in from the front and rear simultaneously.

Mrs. Bergdoll is alleged to have threatened the detectives with a revolver, but the weapon was wrested from her hands. In the meantime, the house was being searched and a man wrapped in a blanket was found hidden in a closet.

The Bergdolls are very wealthy. The draft dodging case gained national notoriety when the brothers disappeared. Search failed to reveal them. They were reported to have been in Mexico, but all trace of them was lost. Upon previous occasions the Bergdoll residence has been raided but without result.

According to his story four weeks later, when his mind became normal, Govro found himself walking the streets of Seattle.

Govro denied that he had purposely wrecked the car. He said he was perplexed and wondered what had taken him to Seattle. Govro returned to his home here this week.

Statement of Position of British Empire

London, Jan. 7.—The inter allied conference that will open in Paris on Friday will be the final discussions and are aimed to clear up every peace question that remains unsettled, it was declared today by Sir William Sutherland, confidential parliamentary secretary to Premier Lloyd George.

"When Premier Lloyd George, A. Bonar Law, Earl Curzon, the foreign secretary, Premier Nitti, of Italy, and Signor Scialoja, the Italian foreign minister, go to Paris on Tuesday they will start a conference during which it is planned to clear up every question that is outstanding," said Sir William.

"Great Britain is tired of the interminable delays. The general lines of the whole Turkish treaty will be settled, the Fiume problem will be solved and the general form of the note demanding the extradition of the ex-kaiser, will be agreed upon.

"Fiume probably will be internationalized. Great Britain will not agree to any solution that is not in accord with the vows of the United States and the other allies.

"Nothing is likely to be done regarding Russia unless overtures are made by the Bolsheviks giving the allies reason to believe that a constituent assembly and responsible government will be formed. It is simply a case of 'hands off' with Russia."

TO HOLD SECOND
BANK CONFERENCE
AT CHICAGO JAN. 23

Washington, Jan. 7.—Governor Harding of the federal reserve board warned the nation's noted bankers in conference here that "a further increase in discount rates of federal reserve banks is a contingency which must be reckoned with." This was taken to mean that the government is nearly ready to contract credits and put a brake on speculation, to bring business back to a peace-time standing. It would mean, officials say, that the nation's currency, vastly inflated during the war, would be contracted. This inflation has been held the main cause of the high cost of living.

The bankers, representing clearing house associations in all parts of the country, failed to take final action on the question of interest rates on bank balances, but decided to hold another conference, at which it is expected an agreement may be reached to stop the competitive bidding between New York and inland cities for out-of-town deposits.

At the request of the bankers the federal reserve board issued a call for a second conference at Chicago, Jan. 23, to be attended by three representatives from each federal reserve district. The purpose of the Chicago meeting, as stated in a resolution adopted by the bankers, will be "to consider the whole question of interest on balances in order that some basis may be agreed upon that will be mutually satisfactory, conducive to conservative banking and benefit the entire business and banking community."

IN NEW YORK; RAIDS
ONLY SCRATCHED TOP

New York, Jan. 7.—More than 20,000 alien enemies in the Communist party of New York state alone are openly organized for overthrow of the government by force and violence under the direction of Bolshevik leaders in Russia, Senator Clayton Lusk, chairman of the joint legislative committee investigating seditious activities, declared. In addition to these there are the Communist Labor party and "other revolutionary" organizations working actively to accomplish the same ends, as well as many other bodies which agree with their principles and encourage their activities without participating openly in them, the senator said.

"Statements to the effect that the backbone of the radical revolutionary movement is broken and that we have reached the beginning of the de-backbone of the radical revolutionary absurdity throughout the country are wrong," said Senator Lusk. "The arrests already made in the state on the charge of criminal anarchy and for deportation hardly scratch the surface of the situation. There are revolutionary organizations throughout all parts of the state."

Mrs. Lillian J. Wilson and her home.

The case of Charles B. Kistler, former city treasurer of Warren, O., who has confessed to appropriating $50,000 from city funds, will be placed before the Trumbull county grand jury January 16. Kistler is held in jail at Warren, awaiting bail fixed at $50,000. Kistler stated when first arrested that he spent most of the money on Mrs. Lillian J. Wilson of Cleveland. Judge Estep of Cleveland soon after Kistler's arrest enjoined Mrs. Wilson from disposing of the house. Mrs. Wilson says she has known Kistler four years, but declares the only dealings she has had with Kistler have been purely business affairs.

MINERS' CONVENTION POSTPONES
FINAL ACTION ON ENDORSING
PLAN WAITING LEWIS' ADDRESS

Columbus, O., Jan. 7.—Not content until they had heard acting President Lewis, delegates attending the United Mine Workers of America convention here postponed until today the final vote on the question of approving the action taken by their leaders in accepting President Wilson's proposal for settling the recent nation wide coal strike.

Following a 45 minute address by Secretary Treasurer Wm. Green, in which he defended the course taken by the officials of the miners organization, the delegates, amid cries for a speech by Lewis, defeated a motion to close debate.

The tremendous ovation accorded both Lewis and Green when Green finished his address indicated that at least 75 per cent of the delegates endorse the action of their leaders.

"All doubts about the wisdom of our action in accepting President's Wilson's proposal vanished when I found that Doc Garfield thought it wasn't good," declared Green, addressing the convention. After summarizing the activities of the miners officials up to the time of their acceptance of the president's proposal, Green was greeted with cries of "no, no," from the delegates when he asked them if their leaders had violated their trust.

Green said the president's coal commission was the best thing the miners could hope for after collective bargaining with the operators and government had failed.

BERLIN'S REQUEST
REFUSED BY ALLIES;
TROOPS WILL REMAIN

Paris, Jan. 7.—An allied note handed to the German delegation refused to decrease the number of troops effective destined for the territories in which plebiscites are to be held.

The note says that nonparticipation by the United States in the proposed occupation already has decreased the effectiveness by one-fourth and Germany's expenses will be reduced accordingly, and that therefore Germany's request for a lessening in the number of troops is unwarranted.

It is reported in diplomatic quarters that, while it will not be impossible for the exchange of ratifications to take place Saturday, the ceremony may be delayed until Monday, Jan. 12. This is due to difficulties encountered by the commission of experts.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 7.—Louisville and Nashville passenger train No. 22 from Atlanta to Louisville was wrecked by a broken rail near Willow Springs, Nelson county, 50 miles south of here late last night. Ten persons were injured, eight passengers and two trainmen. The names of the injured passengers and their condition was not learned.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 7.—Fire caused by the burning out of an electric fuse, swept the interior of the Crucible Steel Casting company here early today, causing $10,000 loss. Fourteen men who were working in the plant at the time the fire started escaped without injury.

At the time of their acceptance of the president's proposal, Green was greeted with cries of "no, no," from the delegates when he asked them if their leaders had violated their trust.

Attitude on League
Issue

Washington, Jan. 7.—The treaty situation remained deadlocked today while the senate continued to "mark time" pending the outcome of the Jackson Day dinner of Democratic leaders tomorrow night.

Interest was divided between the important message President Wilson would send to the dinner and the address Wm. Jennings Bryan would deliver there.

Republican and Democratic senators appeared to take it for granted the president would not only deal with the treaty in his message but would urge the Democratic party to unite in making it a campaign issue unless the senate agreed to ratify it without reservations which he considered would nullify it.

Bryan was expected to assume a different attitude. He was reported to favor immediate ratification with the Lodge reservations if the so-called "preamble" providing for written assent to the reservations by three of the four powers the United States was associated with in the war be modified.

Bryan was said to have taken the position the Democratic minority had no constitutional or other right to dictate to the Republican majority as to the form of ratification should take. Senators of both parties who said they shared Bryan's reported view quoted his declaration that the "party," which by insisting upon a vital issue in the campaign will invite the wrath of the voters."

Bryan was given credit for a set of new reservations emanating from the Democratic side which the Republican mild reservations refused to agree to after Senator McNary, of Oregon, one of their leaders to whom they were submitted by Senator Kendrick, of Wyoming and Senator McKellar, of Tennessee, had consulted Senator Lodge.

Senator Lodge, as the Republican leader, served notice subsequently that forty senators were pledged to vote against ratification except on the basis of the Lodge reservations.

OFFICIAL ADMITS EMBEZZLING $50,000

Mrs. Lillian J. Wilson and her home.

The case of Charles B. Kistler, former city treasurer of Warren, O., who has confessed to appropriating $50,000 from city funds, will be placed before the Trumbull county grand jury January 16. Kistler is held in jail at Warren, awaiting bail fixed at $50,000. Kistler stated when first arrested that he spent most of the money on Mrs. Lillian J. Wilson of Cleveland. Judge Estep of Cleveland soon after Kistler's arrest enjoined Mrs. Wilson from disposing of the house. Mrs. Wilson says she has known Kistler four years, but declares the only dealings she has had with Kistler have been purely business affairs.

MINERS' CONVENTION POSTPONES
FINAL ACTION ON ENDORSING
PLAN WAITING LEWIS' ADDRESS

Columbus, O., Jan. 7.—Not content until they had heard acting President Lewis, delegates attending the United Mine Workers of America convention here postponed until today the final vote on the question of approving the action taken by their leaders in accepting President Wilson's proposal for settling the recent nation wide coal strike.

Following a 45 minute address by Secretary Treasurer Wm. Green, in which he defended the course taken by the officials of the miners' organization, the delegates, amid cries for a speech by Lewis, defeated a motion to close debate.

The tremendous ovation accorded both Lewis and Green when Green finished his address indicated that at least 75 per cent of the delegates endorsed the action of their leaders.

"All doubts about the wisdom of our action in accepting President Wilson's proposal vanished when I found that 'Doc' Garfield thought it wasn't good," declared Green, addressing the convention. After summarizing the activities of the miners' officials up to the time of their acceptance of the president's proposal, Green was greeted with cries of "no, no" from the delegates when he asked them if their leaders had violated their trust.

Green said the president's coal commission was the best thing the miners could hope for after collective bargaining with the operators and government had failed.

BERLIN'S REQUEST
REFUSED BY ALLIES;
TROOPS WILL REMAIN

Paris, Jan. 7.—An allied note handed to the German delegation refused to decrease the number of troops effective for the territories in which plebiscites are to be held.

The note says that nonparticipation by the United States in the proposed occupation already has decreased the effectiveness by one-fourth and Germany's expenses will be reduced accordingly, and that therefore Germany's request for a lessening in the number of troops is unwarranted.

It is reported in diplomatic quarters that, while it will not be impossible for the exchange of ratifications to take place Saturday, the ceremony may be delayed until Monday, Jan. 12. This is due to difficulties encountered by the commission of experts.

OUTCOME OF THE
JACKSON DINNER
MAY GIVE LIGHTINTEREST DIVIDED BETWEEN MESSAGES OF WILSON AND
BRYAN.Think President
Will Touch on PactBryan Expected to Assume Different
Attitude on League
Issue

Washington, Jan. 7.—The treaty situation remained deadlocked today while the senate continued to "mark time" pending the outcome of the Jackson Day dinner of Democratic leaders tomorrow night.

Interest was divided between the important message President Wilson would send to the dinner and the address Wm. Jennings Bryan would deliver there.

Republican and Democratic senators appeared to take it for granted the president would not only deal with the treaty in his message but would urge the Democratic party to unite in making it a campaign issue unless the senate agreed to ratify it without reservations which he considered would nullify it.

Bryan was expected to assume a different attitude. He was reported to favor immediate ratification to favor the Lodge reservations if the so-called "preamble" providing for written assent to the reservations by three of the four powers the United States was associated with in the war be modified.

Bryan was said to have taken the position the Democratic minority had no constitutional or other right to dictate to the Republican majority as to the form of ratification should take. Senators of both parties who said they shared Bryan's reported view quoted his declaration that the "party," which by insisting upon uninvited the wrath of the voters.

Bryan was given credit for a set of new reservations emanating from the Democratic side which the Republican mild reservationists refused to agree to after Senator McNary, of Oregon, one of their leaders to whom they were submitted by Senator Kendrick, of Wyoming and Senator McKellar, of Tennessee, had consulted Senator Lodge.

Senator Lodge, as the Republican leader, served notice subsequently that forty senators were pledged to vote against ratification except on the basis of the Lodge reservations.

Leaving the bank of the East Dayton Savings and Trust Company, of which he is president, Walter E. McGervey, former Xenian, fell on the icy pavement, and received a fracture of the right arm near the wrist, Tuesday night.

Mr. McGervey was at home, when a friend telephoned to him that the lights always kept burning in the banking house through the night were extinguished, and he went to the bank to see about that. He was leaving and was just a short distance from the entrance when he fell. The fracture was set Wednesday morning after an X-ray picture of the injury was taken. Mrs. McGervey, who was at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. A. S. Mower, who died Wednesday morning, was called home on account of the injury to her husband.

SAYS WIFE HAS BAD DISPOSITION

According to the petition of C. V. Craig for divorce from Joanna Craig, which was brought Wednesday, the defendant's quarrelsome disposition made it impossible for him to live with her. She was not contented without some sort of a quarrel, he declared, and kept the home constantly in an uproar by her clashes with his two minor children who lived with them, he avers. She finally abandoned him, he declares. The plaintiff says he and his wife were about 53 years of age when they were married January 6, 1917 and that he had 6 children and his wife nine by former marriages.

Wedded Enroute

By SAIDEE E. BALCOM

(Copyright, 1913 by the Western Newspaper Union.)

The newly selected clergyman for Merton stood looking dismally across a barren expanse of meadow, sparsely sheltered inside of a board structure, one end of which was entirely exposed to the elements.

He had been informed by letter by his new parishioners that he would be met by wagon or by a light hand-car which twice a day brought freight, and sometimes passengers, from Merton along a seven-mile abandoned narrow-gauge spur. Neither wagon nor hand-car had appeared, and almost with resentment Rev. Joel Manniere stood viewing the unfamiliar landscape.

He ran out into the middle of the road and waved his arms as an automobile driven by a pleasant-faced young man, a very charming girl of about seventeen at his side, slowed up.

"Please excuse me," spoke the forlorn one, "but I am a stranger, and was to have been met here by somebody. I am the new pastor of the Merton church. Can you direct me how to reach that town?"

"Why, jump right in!" cried Alan Ware, open-heartedly.

"I think I understand," spoke up Lucille Durland. "We passed a wagon broken down in a rut some ways down the road, and it must be the one delegated to see that you were taken care of."

"As it is, make yourself comfortable in the back seat and we will get you to welcome and comfort in a jiffy!" said Alan. "I am not much of a church man, but Lucille, here, has devotion enough to make up for a whole neglectful community."

It was very plain to Reverend Manniere that he was in the company of two heartsome beings, very much in love with each other.

Lucille told him a lot as to his new charge, and the clergyman warmed towards the bright-spirited young fellow, who kept up an animated conversation until the reverend gentleman was landed in the hotel at Merton.

Alan and Lucille were secretly engaged. She lived with her stepfather at the edge of Merton, and behind her home was a shed where the hand-car was stored. Lucille's mother was dead and her stepfather, a crusty, exacting old tyrant, and a servant were her sole home companions. Alan left her a few hundred feet from the house, for Mr. Durland had a decided aversion to beaux, and had told Lucille she must not think of engagement or marriage for at least two years to come.

"Wednesday afternoon, Lucille," were Alan's parting words.

"Yes, if you must have your way. Oh, dear! I fear there will be a scene when father learns the truth."

"It's the only way to insure our happiness," insisted Alan. "I'll come at about three, in the automobile. You be all ready, and we'll spin to Verden and be back, man and wife, before your father gets home."

And Wednesday at three o'clock Alan Ware drove up in front of the Durland place. The servant liked him and, admitting him, told him that Lucille would be downstairs in a few minutes. Alan was impatiently awaiting the appearance of his lady love when the servant burst into his presence, alive with excitement.

"Mr. Ware," she fluttered, "Mr. Durland is coming tearing down the street like mad. I don't know why, but if you do, and your idea is to go somewhere with Lucille, you had better hurry."

"That fellow, Ware!" panted Mr. Durland, a few minutes later dashing into the house. "That's his automobile outside. He's trying to steal a march on me! Where is he, Lucille?"

"Mr. Ware was here a minute ago," reported the servant, "and Miss Lucille was up in her room."

But Alan had disappeared, and, Lucille, too. Warned by the servant, they had stolen out the back way. The dauntless Alan resolved that the elopement should not be a fizzle. Had he not the marriage license in his pocket? Lucille was all unnerved, but she followed his instructions. They had reached the hand-car shelter.

"It's the only way," declared Alan, and settled the old but light vehicle across the rails. "Now, then, dear, for terminus and a dash on foot to Verden before your father can overtake us!"

Richard Durland uttered a hollow roar of rage and discomfiture as he saw his stepdaughter and Alan speeding down the rails. Then he hurried around the house and jumped into Alan's automobile.

From the hand-car the fugitives could discern and comprehend this maneuver. Whenever the road beyond the cut came within view of Alan, he could see the automobile keeping pace with them. Turning a curve he made out a figure walking between the rails.

"Oh!" spoke Lucille. "It's Mr. Manniere!"

"What luck! Hi, get aboard! We need you," cheerily hailed Alan, and the hand-car slowed down, and then lashed on again, with three passengers aboard.

The automobile reached the end of the spur first. As the hand-car arrived Durland made a dash for his stepdaughter.

"Reached you in time!" he shouted.

"No, too late," dissented Alan, all smiles. "Mr. Durland, allow me to introduce you to our accommodating friend, Rev. Mr. Manniere. He has just married us, en route."

EIGHTEEN HUNDRED DOG LICENSES ARE ISSUED IN COUNTY

"You know the dogs, they were both over to Xenia last year," explained a Bath township woman in making a request by mail to County Auditor Wead for licenses for her two canines.

Auditor Wead failed to remember the two but the woman received her tags just the same.

Over 1,800 dog licenses have been issued for 1920, 500 more than had been issued by the auditor at the same time last year.

Dog owners will find it hard this year to evade the laws requiring them to secure licenses for their animals. A number who neglected to buy the little metal tags for their pets last year are feeling the effect now. Frank Street and Granville Ford, both of R. R. 8, Xenia, were fined $17.50 by Magistrate J. E. Jones Monday for not having 1919 licenses. Names of nine alleged evaders of the law for the last year, were certified to the sheriff Monday.

WHAT TAFT THINKS OF HARDING.

In view of the probability that the nominee of the Republican convention will be our President for the succeeding four years, the eligibility, qualities and experience of those from among whom he is certain to be chosen are full of interest.

Taking this view of the case, our now only Ex-President, William Howard Taft, has been assuming the task of "Old Probabilities."

It is not too much to say that General Wood, Governor Lowden and Senator Harding are at present the leading candidates for the Republican nomination, and in the order named. But the delay in alignment of candidates and delegates, due to the pressure of immediate post-war issues, is such that there is much opportunity to change.

Ex-President Taft places General Leonard Wood as certainly at the head of the list of Republican candidates for nomination for President, and Governor Lowden, of Illinois, as second on the list and then proceeds as follows:

"Presidential booms rise and sag from time to time, and no man can tell why. The meeting of the National Committee is always regarded as a good time to size them up. At the Republican meeting this year in Washington the pulse-takers were on hand, and the consensus of their observations was that the Lowden boom, for some unexplained reason, 'sagged,' and that another candidate who had been in the background came forward with a considerable stride. This was Senator Warren Harding, of Ohio. Senator Harding is a successful journalist of Ohio, who has served his state well in the Legislature, in the State Senate and as Lieutenant Governor. In 1910 he ran for Governor of Ohio and was beaten, but in 1914 he was elected to the Senate by a handsome majority. Senator Harding has a taking personality, is a handsome man and a graceful, forcible speaker. He presided at the National Convention in 1916, and won much approval by his conduct of that position and by his address on the issues then confronting the party and the nation. The solid Republican Congressional delegation from Ohio endorsed his candidacy last month while the Republican National Committee was in session. Senator Harding's experience in state and national politics has enabled him to talk the language of the governing circles of the party in Washington, and he is very popular in them. Those who are likely to control Republican legislative policies in the next Congress know him and can count on his appreciative co-operation in their plans. He has many elements which made McKinley successful in maintaining effective harmony between the two ends of Pennsylvania avenue. The announcement of Senator Harding's candidacy has brought many assurances of support. Senator Harding has been a member of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, and has generally voted with the majority of that committee, though he did oppose them at one time in action calculated to postpone indefinitely consideration of the Treaty. He is not a 'Bitter-Enders,' and voted for the League with the fourteen reservations. One may feel reasonably assured that with the other Republican Presidential candidates, except those from the Pacific slope, he would be glad to have the Treaty and League ratified with compromise reservations, and will finally vote to that end."

SYMPATHY FOR STRUGGLING RUSSIA.

Whatever may be the outcome of the complicated civil and sectional war now going on in Russia—and he would be a wise man, indeed, who could pretend he could see through the fog—there can be no question that the level-headed people of America do wish the Russian people well and wish them an opportunity to develop along the lines of their own better selves freed from the tyranny of a malignant class rule, otherwise Bolshevism. How deep this feeling is revealed in the American number of "Struggling Russia," a number given over to a series of statements by noted publicists, United States Senators and Congressmen, educators, specialists and labor leaders, ranging from Mr. Gompers to men like Doctor Butler, of Columbia University. Of this outpouring of sympathy the magazine well says that it comes at a time to hearten those who are working to save Russia not only "from the enemies of Russia but the enemies of democracy and the enemies of civilization as well."

"Struggling Russia" realizes very clearly that upon the friendship of the United States for the real democracy of Russia depend "to a very great degree the peace and happiness of the entire world." And that this view is also held by the American statesmen and thinkers who have written to the publication is plain from their statements. Mr. Gompers, for instance, does not hesitate to say:

American labor views with heavy heart the terrible curse of Bolshevism, caused by the gun and bayonet on the people of Russia, and sincerely hopes for the success of their brave and valiant fight to eradicate it forever from their sore-ridden land. No more monstrous or degrading government ever was set up anywhere in the world. Its entire existence has been one of terrorism, tyranny and brutal slaying of those who are seeking for a just government. For the Bolsheviks have proved more tyrannous than ever were the Czar and his brutal officials. They have brutalized Russia and used every means to throttle freedom by joining Germany in its efforts to enslave the world.

Other labor leaders take the same view, and, are outspoken in their denunciation of the idea that Bolshevism speaks for democracy or humanity. Naturally, the public men who have taken part in this expression of American views are absolutely against Bolshevism in any of its manifestations.

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED—AND EARNED

By Jane Phelps.

A Modern Story of Home and Business.

CHAPTER 20

I had scarcely recovered from my annoyance at Mary Ryan's attitude by the end of the day. What she said kept recurring to me, and I could not keep my mind on my work. The idea of her finding a wasn't decent of me to make Robert feel badly because he couldn't earn as much as I did. She knew I loved Robert dearly and that my salary made us very comfortable. Why we would be horribly poor if we had only what he earned, especially now that he has lost his chance of promotion. I determined to talk things over with Robert. He must not allow himself to lose faith in his ability and become despondent because Glen Turner had been promoted when he expected the place. Yet all the time I was conscious of a certain feeling of disappointment—not because of the loss of the increased salary; but because Robert had not made good, had not been worthy of the promotion.

I was naturally ambitious and more so for Robert than for myself. He had admitted that he was not doing as well as he should, and that he had not deserved the raise.

Suddenly the thought of Marion Hovey came to me. Robert had been there several times—he might have been often than I was aware. Could it be possible he cared for her and had found it out too late only after he was married? He had made no secret of his admiration for her. He had praised her often. Suppose he was depressed because of his feeling for her.

I turned cold at the thought. I loved Robert, I would not let him slip away from me without a struggle; neither would I listen to his discouraging talk about himself, or his work. He must buck up and attend to business. He was old enough to feel some responsibility.

I hurried home. But when I reached the boarding house the maid told me Robert had been in and gone out again.

"Did he say when he would come back?" I asked.

"No ma'am, he didn't say anything. He just looked around and then went right out."

"Thank you, ma'am," I closed the door, then after switching on the light looked around.

The room was in disorder. Robert's socks and shoes were on a chair, his shoes in the middle of the floor. Evidently he had changed his clothes as the ones he wore that day were thrown across the bed.

I noticed a paper pinned to the cushion on my bureau.

"Gone to the theater, don't sit up, Bob."

I wondered with whom he had gone, but after picking up the room I went down to dinner, as usual.

I would not allow anyone to pity me for being neglected as I answered all the questions asked pleasantly, simply saying he had gone to the theater.

"You had better go too when he goes," Mrs. Anderson a maiden lady of uncertain years and a sour temper remarked. "It isn't good for a young man to go out without his wife—if he has one. There are too many temptations laying around waiting for him."

"I am not afraid to trust my husband Miss Anderson. I should hate to have him or anyone think I would have so little faith in him that I wanted him to remain at home because I could not go." I purposely had conveyed the impression that it had been impossible for me to go. I knew Maggie would tell of his crossing, and that he had gone out before I came in. So I added: "I expect a friend tonight."

"Better put your friends off after this and go with your husband!" Miss Anderson declared with spirit. "If you don't he'll get into the habit of going without you. An easy one to get I am told."

"Nonsense Miss Anderson!" the landlady broke in, "do be more charitable. Mr. Meredith isn't going to do anything to hurt himself or his wife. He's too clever not to know when he's well off. It isn't every man who has a wife like you, Mrs. Meredith. Most of the girls now-a-days are helpless creatures without brains enough to help a man."

"Thank you Mrs. Lane!" I said as I left the table. Suddenly feeling sick of the boarding house and the people in it.

A Japanese student of Theology occupied the pulpit at Mt. Zion and Beaver Sunday. He gave an interesting account of his efforts to learn the English language and his preparations for the work of a missionary to his home country.

An east bound freight train on the Pennsylvania lines had one car to leave the track as it was passing through Alpha Sunday morning. The wrecking crew was called and soon had the track clear. But little damage was done, outside of delaying traffic and necessitating the replacing of about one hundred and twenty ties.

Mr. Hugh Buckwalter, now in the Xenia hospital on account of a broken limb received in a railroad accident in Xenia, when his coal truck was demolished by a B. & O. train, is said to be getting along very well.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold on a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use sterilized molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and calms the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and hoarse cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, whooping cough or bronchial asthma. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with 11 directions and don't accept anything less. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. © Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

BRADY'S DEFEAT CLARKSVILLE TO TUNE OF 44-24

SMALL CROWD WITNESSES PERFORMANCE AT RINK TUESDAY NIGHT

If the Clarksville basketball team are champions of Clinton county, the rest of the county must not be throwing much opposition in the field this year, for the Xenia Bradys had little difficulty in defeating Paul Fuller's aggregation at the Rink, Tuesday night, by the score of 44-24.

Two different Brady teams performed for the edification of the small crowd, the first string quintet putting up a much better game than did the substitute five. However, the team that performed in the second half managed to maintain the lead already gained and was never in serious danger. The score at the end of the half was 29-4.

"Yank" Stephens led the attack of the locals with six baskets, while "Peter" Haren, his running mate in the initial period, secured five. "Hank" Barnett took the highest score prize in the final frame, tossing four fielders. "Pete" Horen also had a weather eye on the foul net, garnering three in three free throws.

Dagford, at forward, who annexed four field goals, Fuller, who gathered in three, and Dodds who connected twice, with six fouls to his credit, bore the brunt of the visitors' scoring.

Paul Fuller manager of the Clarksville team, was loudly applauded when he connected with the basket. Fuller is now operating a restaurant in Clarksville and was elected village councilman at the last election.

The line-up:
Clarksville 24
Stephenslf..... Dagford
C. Horenrf..... Fuller
Walkerc..... Dodds
Hupmanlg..... Milner
Curlettrg..... Burton
Substitutions: Xenia—Hurley for Stephens; Barnett for C. Horen; R. Horen for Walker; Hoag for Hupman; Derrick for Curlett. Scoring: Bradys—Field goals—Stephens 6, Horen 5, Barnett 4, Walker 2, Hurley, Hoag, Derrick; Foul goals—Horen 3, Clarksville—Field goals—Barnett 4, Fuller 3, Dodds 2; Foul goals—Dodds 4. Likelihood of An Increased Meat Price

Although retail meat prices have taken a jump in some cities, Xenians are still paying the same for their cuts of fresh or salt meats.

A local dealer said today that while some cuts of pork are cheaper, that commodity will probably advance in price soon, with the possibility of hogs going back to 20 cents a pound. Hogs have advanced from 12 1-2 to 16 cents a pound recently.

Money will buy good-wearing Furniture in many places. And leave you much to wish for. This is especially true of the living room. Here you want furniture that, in addition to long wear, will create a cozy and harmonious atmosphere. We have illustrated such a suite. Its artistic design is inspired by the Queen Anne period. It has unusually soft cushions, of resilient coil spring construction; cane panelled back and sides and very comfortable arms. Frames are of solid mahogany.

NERV-WORTH IS STILL SELLING AT ONE DOLLAR

Makers Contribute Their Share Towards Keeping Down the High Cost of Living.

"Your Dollar Back" Still Goes in Nerv-Worth Advertisement.

Some time ago, compelled by enormously increased costs in production, advertising and distribution, we notified druggists that it would be necessary for us to secure greater returns from the sale of Nerv-Worth. Two methods offered themselves; a higher price to druggists or a reduction in the size of our bottle. The latter course involved relays incident to a change in bottles, cases, etc. so we took the shorter way and advanced the price to druggists. Dealers who sought at the advance put up the retail price; most of the others continued the sale at $1.00 out of older stock.

When we made the decision these steps were taken to reduce the size of Nerv-Worth bottles, in the hope that hereby we could get back to the old popular dollar price. These steps have now progressed to the point where the necessary size-changes are a sight.

But a change offers now to do something toward keeping down the high cost of living for the immediate present, a fast, and effective Jan. 1, 1932, has been enabled even the druggists who bought Nerv-Worth at the advance to sell the preparation at once at one dollar instead of waiting for the size-changes to be made.

In our plans to reduce the bottle contents, we are not seeking to copy the low cost of the vast majority of cheap products. To continue giving the public a big dollar bottle of Nerv-Worth is making a costly sacrifice. Our Nerv-Worth bottle contains 100 capsules and is one of the largest of its class. The new one will not be disappointingly smaller. Nevertheless, the Nerv-Worth bottle will not be the biggest medicine bargain of the day by buying 10 or bottles of Nerv-Worth at a dollar. And so again we say:

"This is one way to add to the population," he added. "Xenia industries are now able to handle more employees and if proper living facilities can be provided more young people can be taken care of in Xenia at once. There are many young people now anxious to come to this city to work, who are unable to find rooms unless the people of Xenia with spare rooms in their homes offer them as a relief to the situation, temporarily at least."

The listing of these rooms, and the furnishing of the information to the various industries and business men will be part of the service to be rendered by the Chamber of Commerce from now on, according to Secretary Tingley.

MINOR DAMAGE TO AUTOS TUESDAY AS RESULT OF ICY STS.

Slippery streets were responsible for several automobile accidents Tuesday night.

Cars, with or without chains, skidded all over the street on turns, and motorists found the traveling difficult.

Skidding on the slippery street while attempting to negotiate the turn at Detroit and Church street, the Paige touring car owned by George Baldner, was damaged to the extent of a smashed front wheel.

Both wheels on one side of the Haines touring car owned by C. H. Little were smashed when the machine skidded at Church and King streets. Other cases of machines turning clear around in the middle of the street due to the ice and similar contortions because of the slick pavements were reported.

While pedestrians fell frequently the slippery streets fortunately there were no cases of broken bones or serious accidents reported.

Gustave Dore Is Declared to Have Been an Accomplished Player on the Violin. Gustave Dore (the painter) was said to be famous on the violin, and his claims to consideration were far from inconsiderable. He had acquired a valuable instrument, on which he used to play Berlioz's concertos with a really extraordinary facility and spirit. These superficial works were enough for his musical powers. The surprising thing about his execution was that he never worked at it. If he could not get a thing at once, he gave it up for good and all.

We lived in the same quarter and visited each other frequently. As we almost never were of the same opinion about anything, we had interminable arguments, entirely free from rancor, which we thoroughly enjoyed. At heart this great, overgrown, jovial boy was melancholy and sensitive. He died young of heart disease, aggravated by grief over the death of his mother, from whom he had never been separated. It would be entirely unknown had not Johannes Wolf, the violinist of queens and empresses, done me the favor of placing it in his repertory and bringing his fine talent to its aid.—"Anecdotes," by Saint-Saens.

MINOR DAMAGE TO AUTOS TUESDAY AS RESULT OF ICY STS.

Slippery streets were responsible for several automobile accidents Tuesday night.

Cars, with or without chains, skidded all over the street on turns, and motorists found the traveling difficult.

Skidding on the slippery street while attempting to negotiate the turn at Detroit and Church street, the Paige touring car owned by George Baldner, was damaged to the extent of a smashed front wheel.

Both wheels on one side of the Haines touring car owned by C. H. Little were smashed when the machine skidded at Church and King streets. Other cases of machines turning clear around in the middle of the street due to the ice and similar contortions because of the slick pavements were reported.

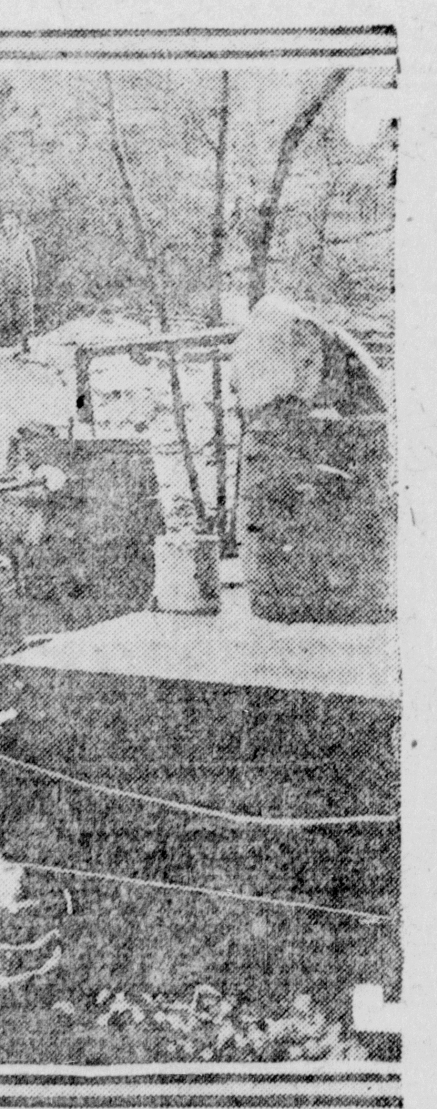

While pedestrians fell frequently the slippery streets fortunately there were no cases of broken bones or serious accidents reported.

Gustave Dore Is Declared to Have Been an Accomplished Player on the Violin. Gustave Dore (the painter) was said to be famous on the violin, and his claims to consideration were far from inconsiderable. He had acquired a valuable instrument, on which he used to play Berlioz's concertos with a really extraordinary facility and spirit. These superficial works were enough for his musical powers. The surprising thing about his execution was that he never worked at it. If he could not get a thing at once, he gave it up for good and all.

MANY FELLOWS LIKE BROWN

And if More of Them Got the Shock He Did It Might Do Them a Lot of Good.

Brown was merrymaking at the club members' reception, when he spied his former friend Summers, coming up the clubhouse steps. He reached nervously for his hat and cane.

"Not going so soon, Brown?" ejaculated another member, in surprise. "You've only just arrived; besides lunch is ready!"

"I must go," announced Brown, keeping an eye on the door. "I've just thought of a pressing business engagement uptown I must keep."

"Pshaw! The fun has only started," deplored the other member. "And here comes Summers!"

"To tell the truth," whispered Brown, his nervousness increasing. "I don't fancy Summers. But that's a matter between Summers and me. I must go."

"Hello! Why, I thought you and he were the best of friends."

"We were formerly; but Summers isn't the same Summers to me now, and really I do not wish to meet him. I didn't want to come right out with it; that's why I gave the other excuse."

Summers now was shaking hands with one of the committee, and the discomfited Brown maneuvered toward the door.

"Summers played a mean game on me recently," he added, as his interested club fellow moved along with him, "and I can't forget it. In fact, it makes me averse to being in the same room with him. Until he has made ample apology for his ingratitude Summers and I are strangers. Perhaps now you understand. Good-by!"

But here the interloper, Summers, grasped Brown by the collar before he could escape by the street door. "You slippery wretch!" exclaimed the angry Summers, jerking his late pal around. "I've been looking for you a week now. Come across with that hard-luck money you borrowed!"—Life.

FUTURE MOTHER OF HEROES

Small Girl, Brave After Operation, Deserves the Encomiums of the Operating Surgeon.

"Now," said the surgeon, "look right over there in that corner, and maybe—maybe there, it's all over, and you never knew what hurt you. My, but you are a brave girl."

At that moment the chubby little girl sitting atop the operating table—did not look very brave. Surprise was in her eyes and two great tears ready to roll down upon the marble slab, for the woman doctor, realizing that more than half the pain of the small operation which is the rule in the daily clinic at Mercy hospital, is due to the dread of it, had stolen a march on little Marie, and the operation was over before Marie knew it had begun.

"Yes," continued the kindly doctor as she hid the shining blade behind her, "you are a mighty brave little girl. You aren't going to cry."

Marie blinked the tears back and straightened up her small body.

"Course not," she said, "I've four years old." And her big eyes gazed proudly into those of the surgeon.

"Here," said the doctor as she turned the small girl over to the nurse for out patients, "is the future mother of heroes—American heroes."—Kansas City Star.

Acorns as Human Food.

The Indians of the Pacific coast region, from northern California to Mexico, eat acorns in considerable quantities. Dried and pounded they are made into a sort of mush, and also used to bread. Acorn meal is usually bleached to free it from tannin and what ever other bitter principles it contains. In certain parts of Italy acorn meal, with the addition of two-thirds ground grain, is made into bread.

Rough Oldtime "Specs." Pugilistic encounters, dog fights cock fights and similar performances were the ordinary forms of popular pastimes in the early part of the last century. Bull baiting was common, and even this did not afford sufficient amusement to the people in some of the northern towns, and Blackburn and Oldham exhibited a strange depravity by compelling old women to race by sacks.—Bailey's Magazine.

ROOM REGISTRATION BUREAU WILL BE STARTED BY C. OF C. IN EFFORT TO PROVIDE HOMES FOR EMPLOYEES

The need of over 100 living rooms housing facilities, and they are solicited for young people who want to come to this city to work in the industries, is the problem now facing the Chamber of Commerce.

Acting upon this necessity Secretary L. C. Tingley of the Chamber of Commerce has put in effect a Room Registration Bureau, in an effort to locate enough living rooms to provide for the influx of population during the congested housing conditions.

Any persons in Xenia having spare rooms available for housing young people who are needed in local industries are requested to call, telephone or write the Chamber of Commerce and have their rooms listed with the registration bureau. The information of these rooms will be then passed on to the different industries, so that they will always be in touch with living quarters for the new help coming into this city.

Everyone in Xenia is asked to prepare to spare rooms to take care of the incoming people, and immediately list them for rent. Whether the owner of the house needs the money or not, the city needs the rooms and

The annual report of David Fitz, manager of the plant of the Refrigeration company, was received at the meeting Tuesday.

EAST END NEWS

Mr. D. B. Allen, a colored business man of New Port, R. I., was recently elected a member of the City Council of that city. He is the first colored man ever elected to council in that famous resort and was endorsed by both Republicans and Democrats. He is prominent in A. M. E. church circles throughout the connection.

Miss Anna Banks of New York, has recently been elected president and general manager of the Bantam Ball Bearing Company, a million dollar corporation, of Connecticut. Fifteen years ago she was hired as a stenographer of this concern at $12.00 per week. Meeting with approval, the retiring president recommended her for his place.—The Christian Recorder.

Rev. F. P. Harrison, evangelist of New York, who was taken ill and had to return to his home, has fully recovered from his illness and is now in Xenia to carry out the program. He preached at the Third Baptist church last evening. Subject for this evening is, "And the Child Sneeze Seven Times."

Mr. A. J. McCoy was taken suddenly ill in his barbershop, Tuesday evening, and had to be taken to his home. He is now under the care of a physician.

Lemon Tree Produces Oranges.

According to the "Journal of Heredity," a lemon tree, supposedly of the ordinary Italian lemon variety, was transplanted in Egypt. When it bore fruit it was noticed that the lemons were more spherical than lemons usually are and bore an orange-colored stripe. One branch bore a large fruit which was unmistakably an orange.

NERV-WORTH IS STILL SELLING AT ONE DOLLAR

Makers Contribute Their Share Towards Keeping Down the High Cost of Living.

"Your Dollar Back" Still Goes in Nerv-Worth Advertisement.

Some time ago, compelled by enormously increased costs in production, advertising and distribution, we notified druggists that it would be necessary for us to secure greater returns from the sale of Nerv-Worth. Two methods offered themselves; a higher price to druggists or a reduction in the size of our bottle. The latter course involved relays incident to a change in bottles, cases, etc. so we took the shorter way and advanced the price to druggists. Dealers who bought at the advance put up the real price; most of the others continued the sale at $1.00 out of older stock.

When we made the decision these steps were taken to reduce the size of Nerv-Worth bottles, in the hope that hereby we could get back to the old popular dollar price. These steps have now progressed to the point where the necessary size-changes are a reality.

But a change offers now to do something toward keeping down the high cost of living for the immediate future. As of last, and effective Jan. 1, 1932, we have enabled even the druggists who bought Nerv-Worth at the advance to sell the preparation at once at the dollar instead of waiting for the size-changes to be made.

In our plans to reduce the bottle contents, we are not seeking to convey the less entailed by vastly higher costs. To continue giving the public a big dollar bottle of Nerv-Worth is making a costly sacrifice. Our dollar Nerv-Worth bottle contains one ounce and is one of the largest of its class. The new one will not be appreciably smaller. Nevertheless, it will be the biggest medicine bargain of the day by buying 10 or bottles of Nerv-Worth at a dollar. And so again we say:

FOR THOSE OHIO FOLKS WHO SUFFER FROM COUGHS, COLDS OR BLOOD DISORDERS

Elvira, Ohio:—"I can highly recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as a household remedy for deep-seated coughs and colds and as tonic and builder in run-down conditions. Golden Medical Discovery has been of great value to me and to my family for years and it is a pleasure to recommend it."—Mrs. EMMA VOSBURGH, 223 Rush St.

Conneaut, Ohio:—"To any person suffering with blood disorder or a scrofulous condition I do not hesitate to recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Last year my grand-daughter had a scrofulous swelling develop on her neck just below the ear. The doctors ordered her to go to the hospital to have it lanced but I advised her to take the 'Golden Medical Discovery' instead, and this medicine cured her from within, instead of having to submit to possibly serious results from lancing. Her whole system seemed to be greatly benefited by the 'Golden Medical Discovery', it did her so much good. We are most enthusiastic in praise of the 'Discovery' and do not hesitate to recommend it at every opportunity."—Mrs. MARY H. RING, 738 Maple Ave.

Akron, Ohio:—"Several years ago I was afflicted with liver trouble, nervousness, bad stomach also headaches. I began to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Pellets. Very soon afterward I found an improvement had taken place. Whenever I get out of fix Dr. Pierce's remedies give relief. I do not feel safe if I do not keep them in the house at all times."—JOHN M. KEEP LOOKING YOUNG
It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—rings—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 10c and 25c.

SUFFERING OF YOUNG WOMEN

This Letter Tells How it May be Overcome—all Mothers Interested.

Fort Dodge, Ia.:—"From the time my daughter was 13 years old she was 16 she suffered so badly each month, that sometimes I had to call in the doctor. She had headaches, backache, and such pains and cramps that she would have to stay in bed two or three days. She became terribly run down in health and at last a friend who had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound told her about it and she has used sixteen bottles and we always have it in the house. She feels fine now and she has no trouble at all each month. We always praise it and advise any friends who suffer to use your wonderful medicine."—Mrs. MINNIE MANDELKO, 1065 S. 18th St., & 10th Avenue, Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Girls who are troubled as Miss Mandelko was, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Those who need special advice may write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. These letters will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

MEN BEWARE--'TIS OPEN SEASON FOR FAIR SEX'S HUSBAND DRIVE

(By Rah)
And now ye maiden faire, has her inning!
Lucky be the lad who escapes a proposal during the twelve months just started.
For this is Leap Year and the coy and retiring maiden, who maintains her maidenly dignity through 365 days of every other year, will cast off her cloak of bashfulness and make up for lost time.
Woe to the confirmed bachelor, who having held forth against the charms of many a maiden, must needs hide himself in some outlandish place, to prevent the sanctity of single blessedness from being blasphemed by womanly advances.
Now the opportunity of the desperate man hunter, who always looks under her bed at night for the presence of masculinity, but who can for this thin subterfuge and cry her ambitions to the world, at the same time maintaining perfect decorum in not hesitating to train her guns on any male she may happen to decide upon.

15 EGGS A DAY FROM 23 HENS, IN WINTER

Mr. Dun's Hens Increased Every Day. Plan is Easily Tried.

"We have 23 chickens and hadn't had an egg all winter. In five days after feeding Don Sung, we got four to five eggs a day; in three weeks, we were getting 10 to 12 eggs a day; in five weeks we got 15 to 19 eggs a day."—John Dun, Box 102, Cherry Valley, Pa.

Mr. Dun started giving his hens Don Sung in January, in zero weather. He now keeps his hens busy in cold weather, who here usually stop laying. A trial costs nothing. Here's our offer: Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) works directly on the egg-laying organs, and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her stronger and more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 284 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Home-Made Water Filter.

To make a cheap water filter, take a large garden pot and stop the hole in the bottom by placing a piece of sponge in it. Cover with a few inches of powdered charcoal, fill with water, and let it stand over a pall or tub supported by two or three sticks laid across. The water filtering through the charcoal will be freed from all impurities and will be fit for family use. The charcoal should be changed every three months and the sponge several times a year.

BEING SAFE FROM BAD WEATHER IS SIMPLE

At this season, when changeable weather tries all of us, neglected coughs and colds are especially dangerous, for they furnish a fertile field for the more serious troubles. Any cold taken in time may speedily be overcome by Duffee's Cough Syrup and Duffee's Fifty-Fifty Tonic Laxative, while a cough, no matter how stubborn, is mastered by Duffee's Cough Syrup which has established a record of more than thirty five years of wonderful success.

These two, kept in the house for immediate use, will go a long way toward keeping the family in perfect health, thus preventing the ravages of influenza and pneumonia. Their value is known to thousands who would not be without them, and a trial by any person adds another to the list of those who pin their faith on the harmless but effective Duffee's Cough Syrup, which can be obtained of grocers or druggists for 25 or 50 cents.

To make rabbit pie you must first catch the rabbit

To truthfully talk about the good things a store has to sell, it must first go out into the market and get the goods.

That's why this is a strictly honest advertisement. We have for sale what we have to say.

First, we bought the best O'coats we could find—and we mined in the richest Overcoat veins in America. Next, we marked them at a fair price, based on cost. We could have asked more but we think more of your future dealings than of a few extra dollars.

We have played the Overcoat game as square as a brick. When we show you our models and quote you our prices you will be able to tell by the expression on our face and in our fabrics that you are in the right place for a square deal.

AND YOU'LL GET IT.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and I doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.
